How Globalists Use Popular Culture to Wage War Against us

Donate Here: Donate today! \(winred.com\)

Globalism is a concept wherein the financial elite control all aspects of government power through a network of agencies mostly, but not exclusively, germinating out of the United Nations and the World Economic Forum. In the United States, globalists take on the form of prestigious sounding organizations like the Council on Foreign Relations, or if you're a Democrat: the Brookings Institute or if you are a Republican: the Heritage Foundation.

Globalists especially like to make use of popular culture. The evidence is all around yet so many miss it. Let me give you a case in point.

The popular hit show "Shark Tank" strikes at the heart of the American Dream. The idea that you can grow your own business and be a self made independent person. The avenue to that wealth per the show overt concept is pure free market capitalism.

Like all the other reality TV shows, it's a fraud. These people are fake. And they are mere stooges and cheerleaders for the globalist elite. They will feed you information you like (how the average joe can make it big) but in the end it is a fraud. And the goal is for you to invest in them as thought leaders because you like the show. They will then be the ones telling you that your will own nothing and be happy and you will want to believe them.

UN officials are banking on the fact that these highly recognizable paladins of free-market capitalism would come away ready to do the bidding of the globalist establishment — and they were not disappointed. Subjected to a propagandistic full-court press on behalf of the sustainable development agenda, well-known Shark Tank faces such as Mark Cuban, Kevin O’Leary, and Barbara Corcoran gushed afterwards about the event and how it had changed their perspectives. “To me the whole day was a wakeup call,” Corcoran exclaimed. “What we learned today is that we have more power than we thought to make a difference in business. Now I’m going to choose different products, different businesses.” Kevin O’Leary, a regular guest on Fox News, told viewers of a carefully-scripted video of the event, “the sustainable development goals are a blueprint for a better future for everyone everywhere. Join me and people all across the globe in taking action!”

That such self-styled captains of industry could be so easily used by cheap UN functionaries speaks volumes of the power and reach of globalist propaganda, of which the twin fictions of sustainable development and anthropogenic climate change are two of its most conspicuous achievements.

Truth has a special quality. Like a drop of dawn in a sink full of greasy water. Lies will scatter when light is applied.

Just a dollar of truth can successfully battle hundreds of dollars of lies. But it does take effort. Please help support our message and grow our mailing list. Even a small donation can move mountains. If you appreciate this messaging please consider a donation today.

What can YOU do about this?

Get educated and get active in your community!

Use these guiding principles to form your team:

We believe the American system of government, a constitutional Republic, is the finest ever developed by man.

We believe the traditional moral values of our Judeo-Christian heritage form the cornerstone of western civilization and that the family is the most vital unit of society.

We believe the free market system, competitive capitalism, and private enterprise afford the widest opportunity and highest standard of living for all.

We believe in the dignity of the individual. We welcome people from all ethnic racial and religious backgrounds judging others only by character and ability - as we wish to be judged ourselves - our common bond is a love for liberty and our rejection of totalitarianism under any label.

We believe that individual rights are endowed by our creator, not government; that the government's function should be limited to protecting our right to life, liberty, and property; and that individual rights are inseparably linked to individual responsibility.

If you agree with the above concepts, you are a “Bircher” so let’s get organized in local chapters of the John Birch Society to start impacting your community. In this way we can still work as an organized team statewide without concern of interference from the political thugs that set out to lynch Kristina.
